Imagine watching the roaring sea and the austere Bohuslän nature while you sit in an easy chair in front of the fire. Or when you head down to the jetty for a dip or a boat ride to fish for mackerel or cod in spring, summer or autumn. These Archipelago Houses are available all year round but are especially popular during the summer in June, July and August. The kitchen, dining area and living room are on the first floor, have an open floor plan and magnificent views of the sea.

There are 14 houses decorated and equipped to a high standard. Half have an indoor pool. From the living room all houses have a wonderful panoramic view of Kyrkesund and the "West Sea". Outside the houses you will also find spacious terraces that bask in the afternoon sun.

There is sea swimming here, a boat harbour and other local services within walking distance, which makes your stay a real dream.
